School Life In Its Many Phases

Captivates As Cavaliers Live Now

Live Now

On boards, but not bored, are these Freshmen during one of the many educational assemblies of the year.

Capturing The Joy Of The Moment

P. Gormley takes over Biology class while Bro. Gensler is out tending his little white mice.

Test tube demons await explosions of something under the supervision of the chemical genius of Tom Mott.

Hackberry Street in all its glory goes down on the canvas of Bro. Weber's gifted little Rembrandts.

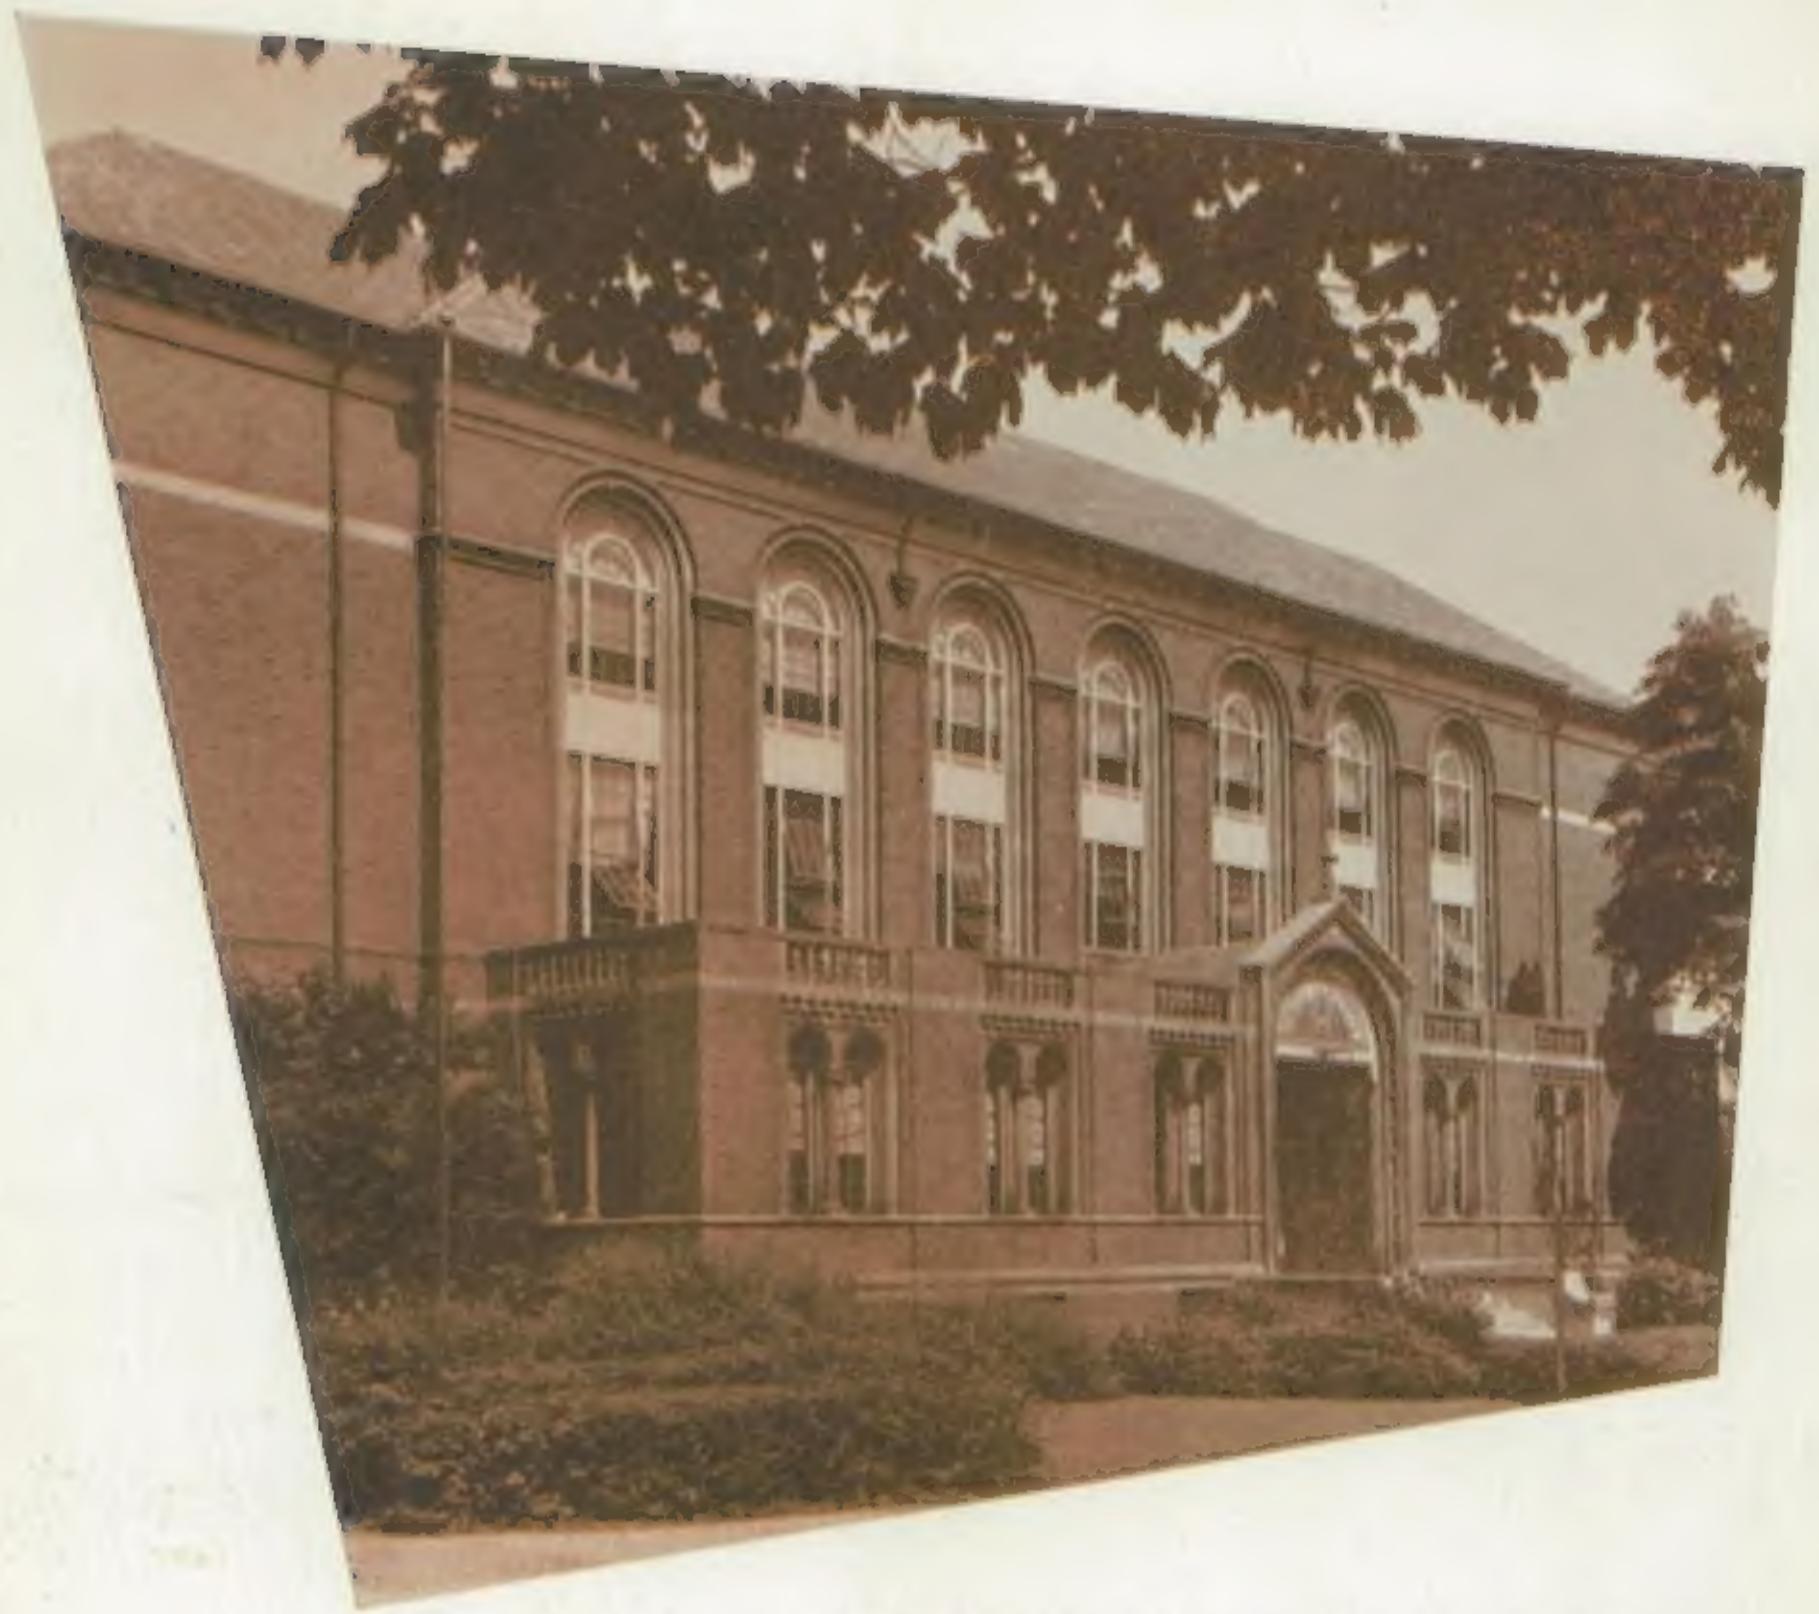

Not a ballet but a muscle teasing session in the gym classes! Charles Atlas has nothing on them.

Conquering The Work Of The Day

"Big Business" in the typing room. Here the "Bank" consults the "Real Estate Company" in Bro. Beyer's "Pixie Land."

The student in these four years of school life leads a very useful, practical life. During this short time he forms his character and lives a full life every day. By sincere study and practice in spiritual, social, moral, physical, and intellectual fields, he "Lives Now," successfully.

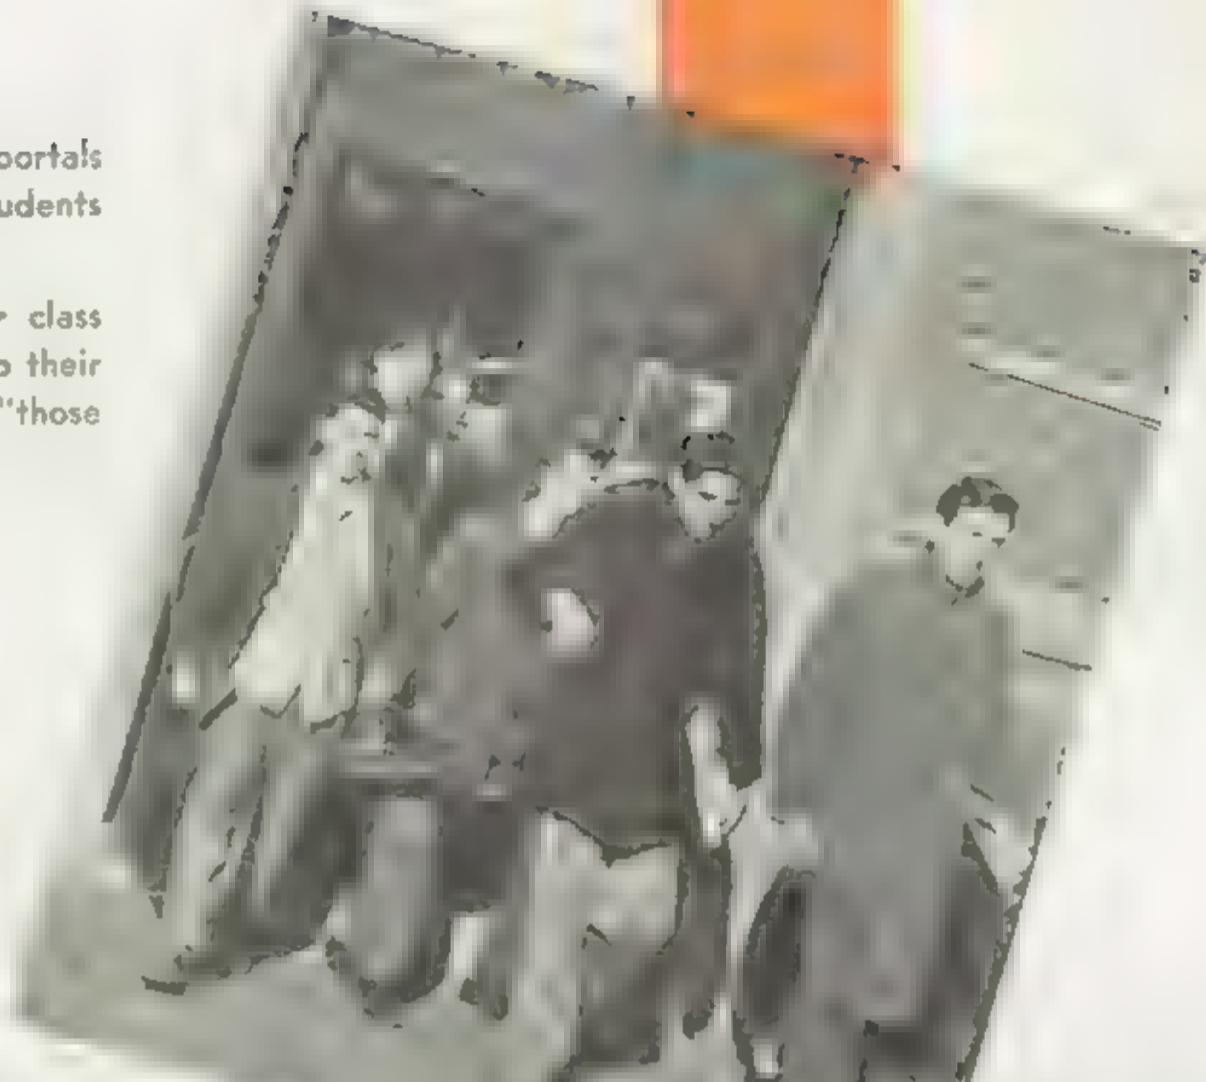

At a sedate looking building on Hackberry Street a group of religious men, interested in the future of young men, are busy turning out, with fatherly care, tomorrow's leaders. This building in which students "LIVE NOW" was known and loved by us for four years as PURCELL HIGH SCHOOL!

Our School --- The Scene Of Life

It's 2:15 again as Purcell's portals open and the hundreds of students exit for another day.

A few members of the senior class take it easy before returning to their afternoon classes after one of "those lunches" in the cafeteria.

Rev. George B. Barrett, S.M.

Our Guide, Our Stay, Our Inspiration

In his first year at Purcell, Fr. George Barrett has won the respect of every Cavalier—as their leader, as their friend. Wishing to help the students in every possible way, he advocates more faculty counseling, especially concerning vocation. The Student Council found him always ready to cooperate in giving anything necessary for the students' success or enjoyment.

Hey-day for Math Club as new pledges are received. On this occasion the camera catches three organizers together. It must have been a good one to make Fr. Barrett smile.

Live Now

Mr. Emsweiler's turn at the mike to sing the praises of the Cavaliers as another one of the many personages speaks at the football banquet.

B. Hatfield completes a conference with our Principal, Fr. Barrett. Fr. Barrett is well known for his ability to cope with any problem which confronts the high school student.

Our Secretaries

Miss Mary Kennedy

Miss Jeanne Meiers

MONTHS of bustling activity sum up Miss Kennedy's year at Purcell. Hard work, a sweet smile, and those many little favors give us a great admiration and respect for her.

Indeed Miss Kennedy is the "lady of the house" to the many alumni. And today we may say with truth that she always has a smile for everyone unceasingly.

Fortunate is the man who has a personal secretary like Miss Jeanne Meiers. Taking care of his correspondence and assisting the Vice-Principal in his busy secretarial day.

Having her at Purcell is a great comfort to everyone.

Miss Jeanne Meiers, as capable as she is nice, handled her secretarial chores with poise and efficiency at the Cavalier Castle.

Live Now

One of the most well liked, hard working personages about Purcell—that's Miss Mary Kennedy, personal secretary to Fr. Barrett, the principal.

Our Vice-Principal

Co-Principal Brother Lawrence J. Eveslage, S.M., is idealistic, energetic, exacting, and most definitely progressive. Brother Eveslage has a great deal of time to give to his students, and individual planning for the future. He is eager to help the growing student.

Bro. Lawrence Eveslage, S.M.

Enthusiastic, energetic—best describes Bro. Lawrence Eveslage in his capacity as Vice-Principal. He keeps things running on a smooth basis.

Handling of the demerit slips was the task given to Bro. Schneider this past year. He took care of this job with his usual quiet thoroughness.

Faces from all the places that buzz with the vital activities of school life bring home to us that school is essentially "people" working together that they might help one another grow richer in personality and more experienced in living happily.

Live Now

The men chosen by the senior class to guide them through their final year are William Curran, President; James Mott, Vice-President; William Folzengen, Secretary; and Donald Brill, Treasurer. These officers the seniors chose of students whose abilities are representative of leaders and upon whose shoulders rest the guidance of the class.

Cavalier Men Spend Precious Seek To Master All Their Technical

The studies a student masters in these few years of education should be used as the basis for future life. Though school life is primarily for study, activities of a spiritual, moral, and social nature should also be made part of life. Each day he should be able to fully express himself in just two words, "Live Now."

Live Now

The intent interest expressed by the soph "bugologists" is fully shown by their attention to their work.

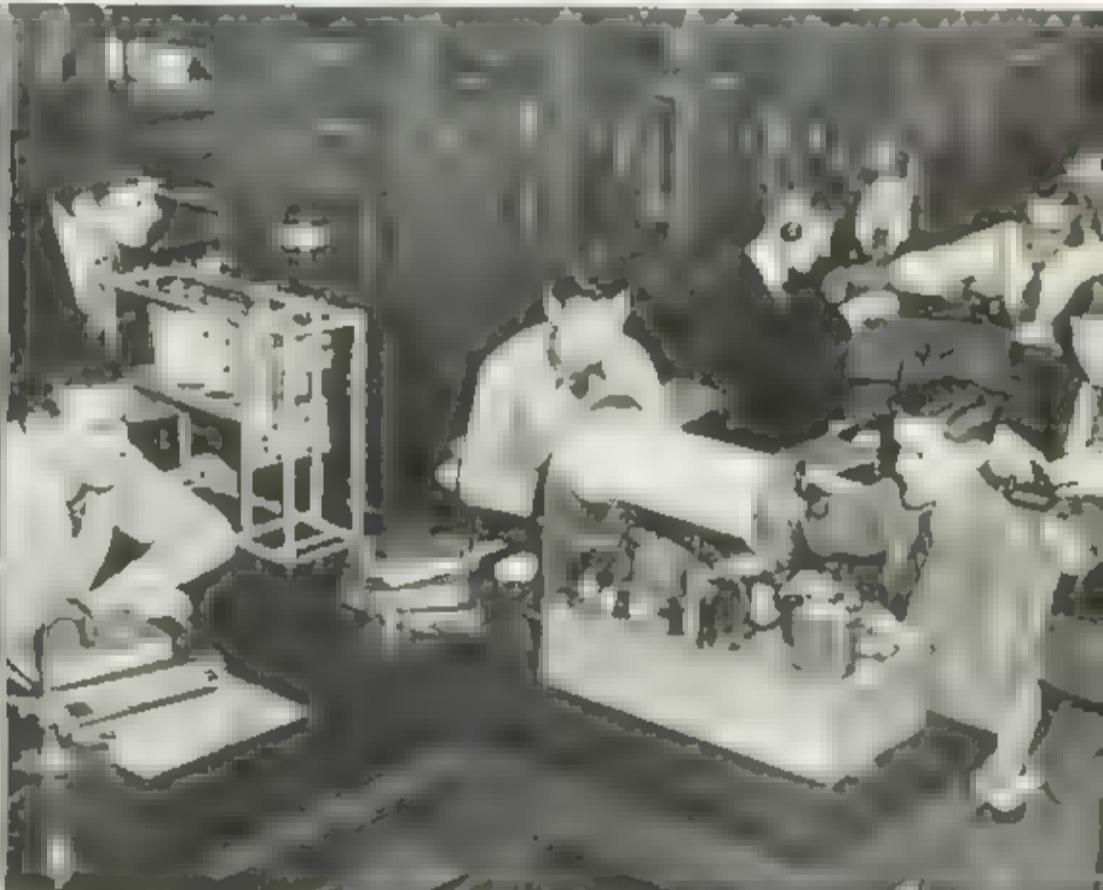

Moments Wide-Awake As They And Puzzling Intellectual Problems

The junior chemists seem to be trying to figure out what's what in one of their lab experiments.

Fr. Kenning appears quite pleased with the report given by one of his students in his religion class.

Cavalier Underclassmen

STARTING the year off with a bang the Junior Chemists almost blew up the chemistry lab with their experiments in that field of science.

Along more stable lines the Junior orators took the spotlight in the month of November by seriously undertaking the mock elections. After much debate and general discussion the fate of the governor and state congressional candidates was sealed. Surprisingly enough the vote of the Junior voters nearly paralleled that of the elections in the state.

Junior Debators. Ken Haas and Harold Knecht, showed the results of Father Joseph Lekan's persistent coaching, when they and the other members of the debating team tied Mother of Mercy High School in the speech tournament sponsored by The Greater Cincinnati Speech League held at Newport High School on January 11.

Purcell gridiron fans should have a team of paramount fame next year with all the talent that won berths for themselves on the '47-'48 team. The following pillars of strength will be the mainstay of the power-loaded litter: Captains W. Adkins and J. Hoffman, J. Brown, V. Scardina, P. Gates, W. Coad, R. Siefert, R. Brill, A. Kramer and V. De Salvo.

During the special upperclassmen's sessions in the retreat the Juniors regarded Father Hert's messages as ones that should never be forgotten.

As the yearly physical examinations rolled around Junior muscle-men were seeing visions of square-headed, six-inch needles, which drained them of their life's blood. The only casualty reported was Dan Hogan, who fainted when he found out he had an acute case of dandruff.

Very apparently Bro. Geary isn't present as some Jr. students examine Chem Lab "decorations" while classmates take it easy.

Either these boys are very interested in Dalton's theory on the Atom or someone slipped a couple of comic books in Donohue holds classmates' attention with a humorous anecdote from literature. If you will notice in these pictures the students' faces are wreathed in smiles when the teacher is not present. Coincidence?

"Bull Sessions" such as these are commonplace around school about 8:55. Here a group of Juniors are swapping accounts of their weekend experiences in the corridor before the day begins.

For the first time in the history of the school, the sophomore class has produced three All City players. The Sophomore class has also won the hard fought football championship and has put up another remarkable record.

On the athletic field, the Sophomore class has plunged into their studies with such enthusiasm that even the Faculty was surprised at the number of hours spent by the students during the first two periods alone.

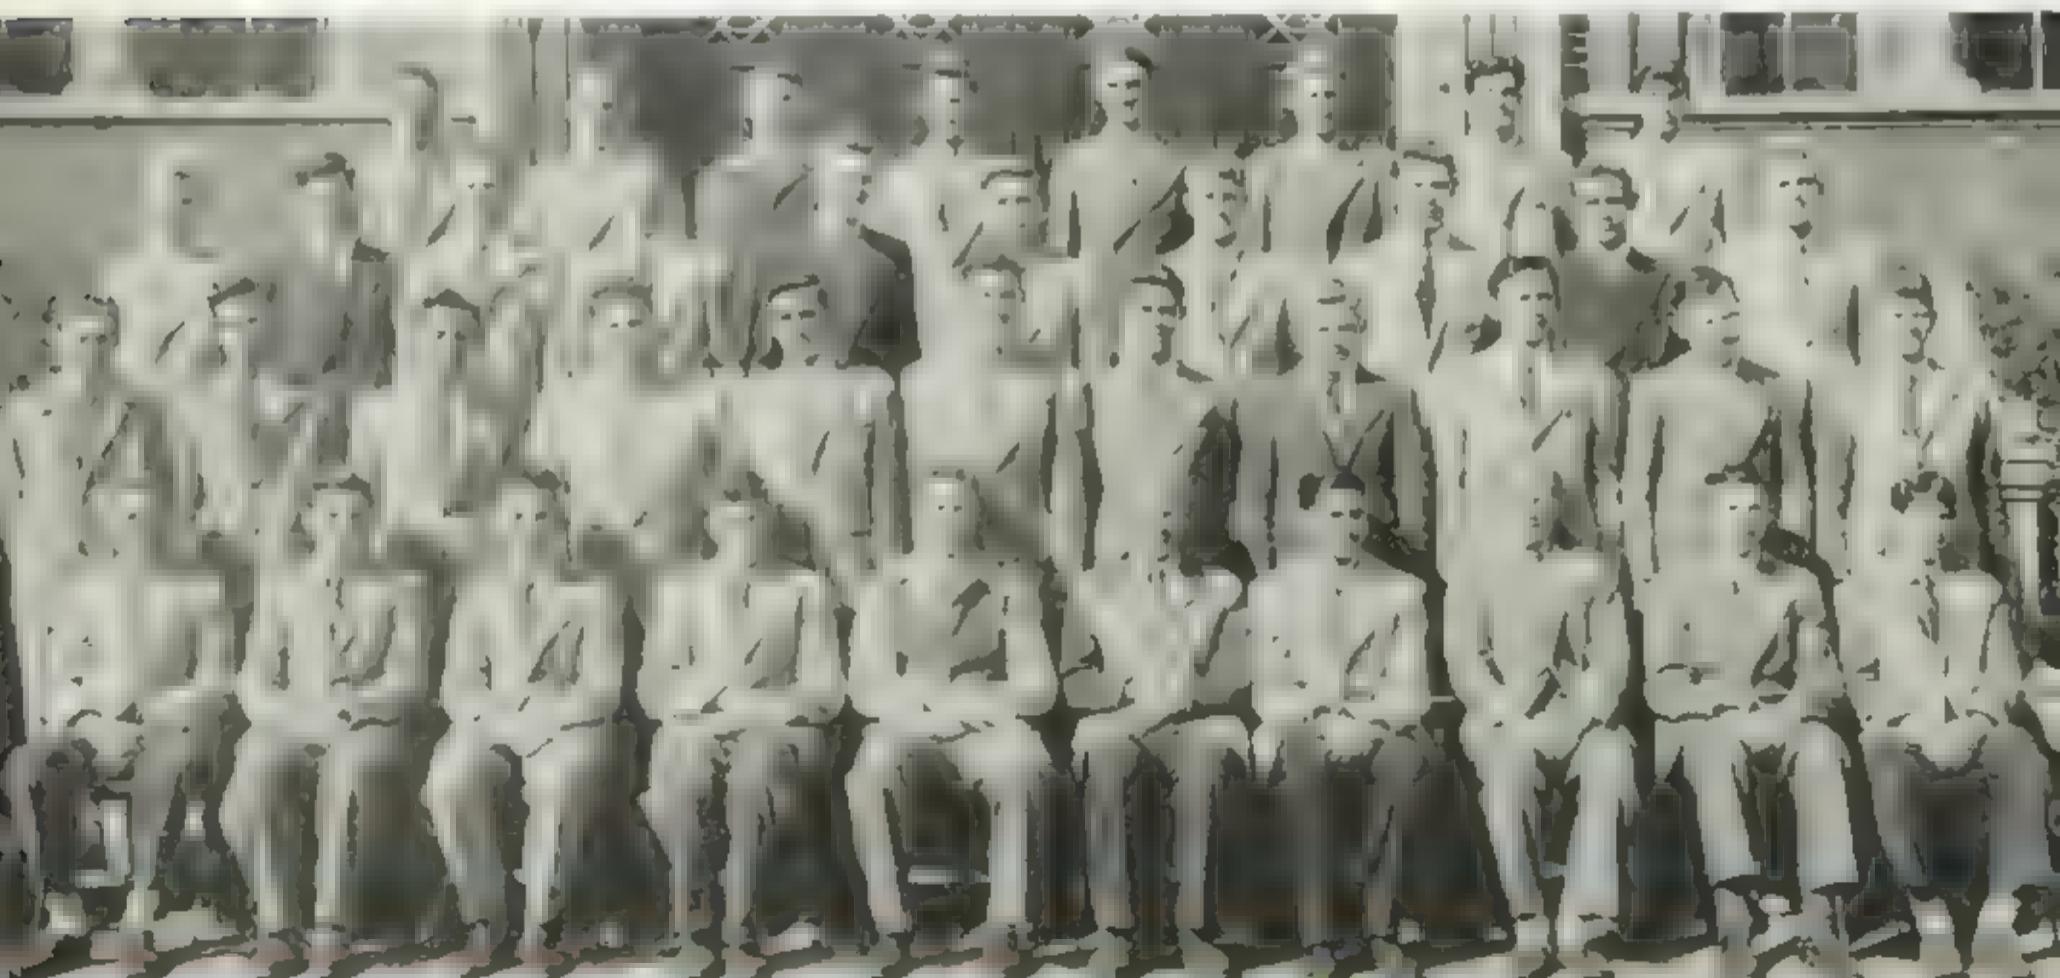

In the field of sports the scrappy Sophomores John McPherson and Joe DeGaro deserve much merit for their fine play in the Dixie Heights and other inter-city games.

On the other side of the sports clock Joe and John also starred in Basketball, with Joe retaining top scoring honors.

During retreat week the sophomores became brothers in prayer to the Freshmen who were all but strangers to the conferences. By their fine example the sophomores showed the Freshmen how to gain useful lessons from the interesting talks given by Father Hilvert.

et by school life. Interest in the free men was awakened in this various activities at school. Not to mention by last year the Frosh read over 1412 books from the library for the first semester alone.
Freshman A led the pack with 331 books. The serious study showed many results on the honor roll. During the first two periods, eight teen freshmen reached the pinnacle of academic fame.

Guided by the example of Mr. B with 336 per cent, the fresh men at the beginning of the Turkey Raffle drive and held it through the home stretch getting their first chance to "bow the Crimson shirt.

Nor did they slacken their efforts to bring more people to the field of sports. During King George's reign, the royal family was a great influence in encouraging the public to take up sports.

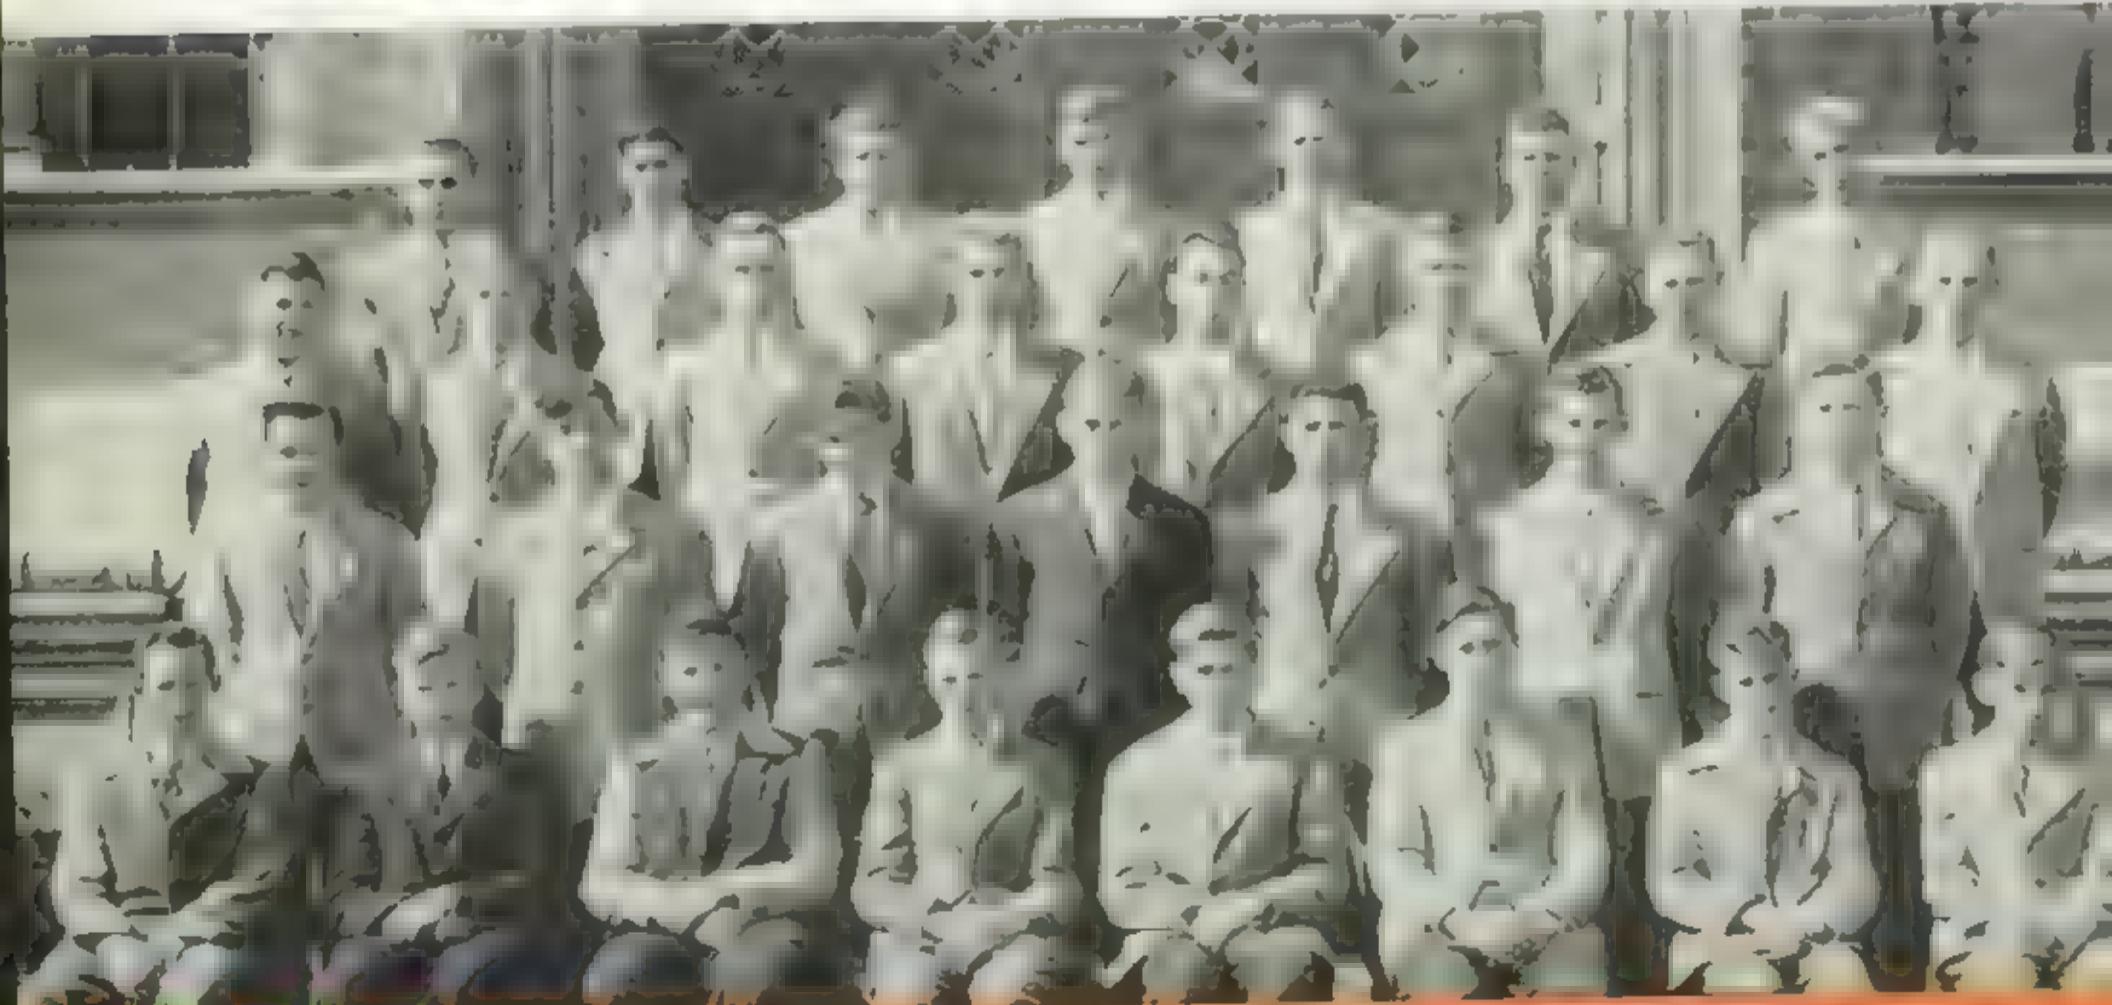

brief reign one of the largest freshmen squads in Purcell's history was taken under Coach Kluska's wing. They proved their worth by losing only one game during the entire season.

When basketball season rolled around, the boys were not lax in their response to the call issued by Bro. Gensler, the freshman coach. Seventy-five candidates turned out, from which twenty-three were selected for practice.

In their spiritual life at Purcell the Freshmen proved themselves genuine Cavaliers. At the recent retreat which was held at Purcell, they by their interest and attentiveness, showed their spiritual devotion and love of God.

In all fields—religion, study, and sports—the freshmen proved their willingness to learn and to improve where mistakes were noted, observing the slogan "Live Now!"

Victors Forged On The Gridiron

COMPILING one of the most enviable football record at Purcell, having stretched their string of consecutive wins to 26, Purcell's Cavaliers went through another undefeated season to cop for the third straight season the G.C.C.L. championship. Sparked by Capt. Don Brill, the Cavaliers reign as champs. Jim Daley, and Bill Adkins also were major threats in Purcell's offensive game; but that little pack of dynamite, Paul Misoli, defensively, proved to be a menace for the opposition.

The stalwart Cavalier line consists of Mike Daly, Bob Siebart, Bill Curran, Bob Lorenz, John Brown, Virgil Scardina, and Jack Hoffman. Other linemen who saw a considerable amount of action are Al Kramer, George Spille, Don Williams, Neal McHugh, Vinny DeSalvo and John McPhlips. What the Cavalier aggregation lacked in weight and height, they made up in spirit and fight.

Wearing the Crimson and Gold for the last time were eight seniors: captain Don Brill, Paul Misali, who was hospitalized with an operation near the end of the season; Mike Daly, a fancy-Dan pass-snagger; George Spille returned to Purcell after serving a bit in the Marine Corp.

Live Now

Bill Curran, quiet but spirited, and that's all that counts at a guard position; Don Williams, another line bolster; Neil McHugh, the fiery red headed tackle; Bob Lorenz. The Cav aliens' pivot-man.

These boys bore the brunt of most of the action during the past successful season. Their aggressive play provided many headaches for the opposition. Through the line's teamwork and coordination, combined with the precision of the star-studded backfield, they romped through the third undefeated season.

Bodily exercise is not enough for a successful season; exercise of the mind known as "skull practice" is essential also. Here the entire football squad is assembled in the study hall for just such a session with Coach Kluska presiding up front.

Time out on the gridiron means time out on the bench. What are you doing "Sadie," whistling "Mother McCrea?"

Student Managers W. Klosterman, N. Churney, B. Steubbe, and Sharpie King play their parts with Coach Kluska in football matters.

However, the Cavaliers' coach, Mr. Beckers' absence was noted as Paul Mula, who was hospitalized was replaced by Paul Gates who compensated on an early 67-yard drive. Ray Brill and Jim Daley both tried with Alton and McLean converting.

With the Frank J. Varsity Understudies Toughen

ANOTHER year of practice under the guidance of Coach John J. McAndrew Purcell, and the season with a rather long record of 2-0 winning and tying one out, it might however be varsity understudies should be congratulated for in all of their games the true spirit of competition, never give up, existed.

Applying true sportsmanship in all of their games the Cavalier understudies showed their aggressiveness and stamina, and technical knowledge by playing a "heads-up" brand of ball, common at Purcell.

The men who manned the reserve toronto were: B. Edwards, P. Leisring, R. Hart, meyer, C. Corken, J. McPhillips and Wilson, whose weight increased in size of the largest varsity lie valuable material for next year's varsity Spearheading the Cavalier backfield are these six men: O. D., D. G., B. M., J. P. F. A. Doggett and A. Hebbeier.

A VERY agile squad of gargantuans turned out for the Cavalier Freshmen team. Being well versed in Coach Kluska's style of football the frosh enjoyed a successful season, winning four games and losing two, rolling up 75 points to the opponents 66 points.

Jackie Hunt, playing quarterback for two seasons at U.C. and now trying out with the Chicago Cubs at shortstop, assisted Coach Kluska in rounding the freshmen squad into condition. The frosh were often obliged to scrimmage the varsity. A number of boys who started playing with the varsity in August and September graduated to the varsity rank next year. Jim Engering already played in varsity competition. Two other frosh players who saw a considerable amount of action with the reserve squad are Gene Jochem and Jack Martin.

Varsity

PURCELL'S dribble-demons closed their score books after a rather mediocre season with a 11-9 win-loss record. Despite their standings, they boast one of the city's highest scorers. Bill Donovan rang up 140 points for the third straight mark in the city. This year's quintet has scored more points than any other team in Purcell's history and has established a new record for scoring at 47.96 points per game. The basket in one contest.

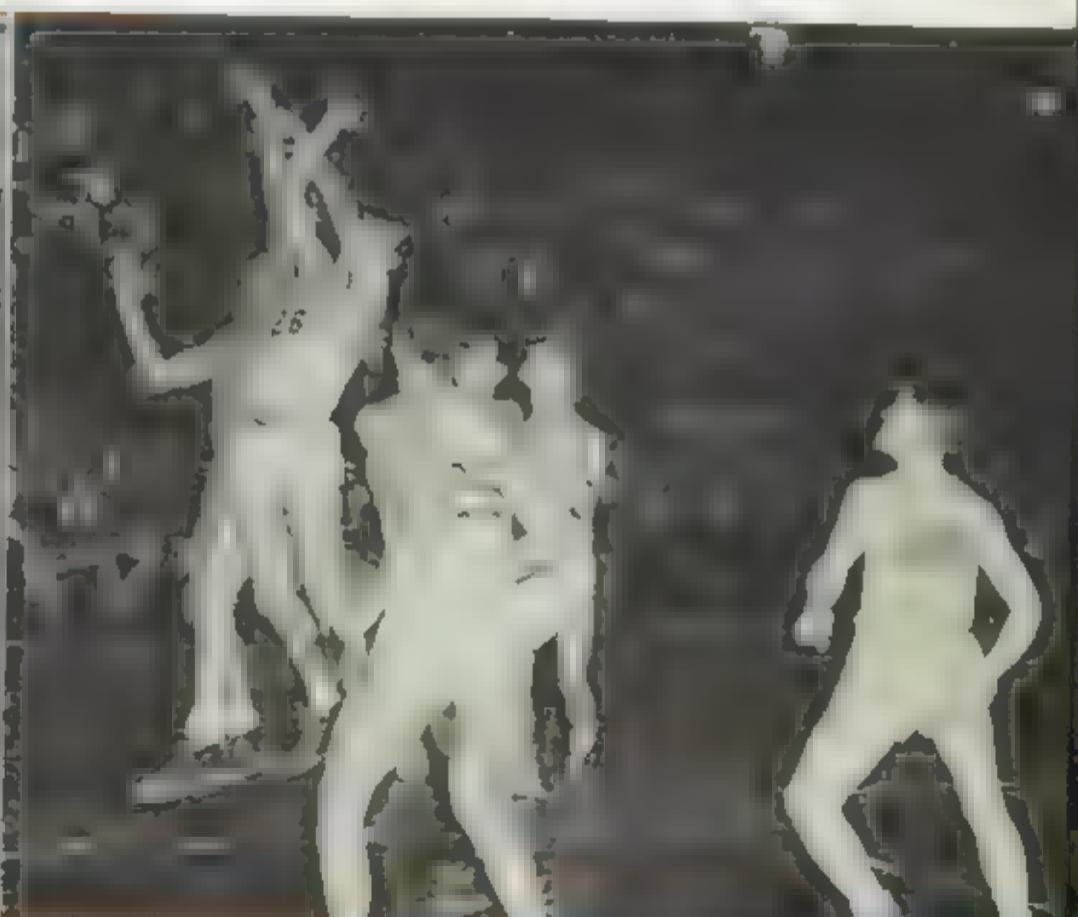

The United Cavaliers dropped four contests by a recent margin. Hamilton Catholic's Rams who just went up-state in the tournament, bowed to the Crimson and Gold hardwooders by one point.

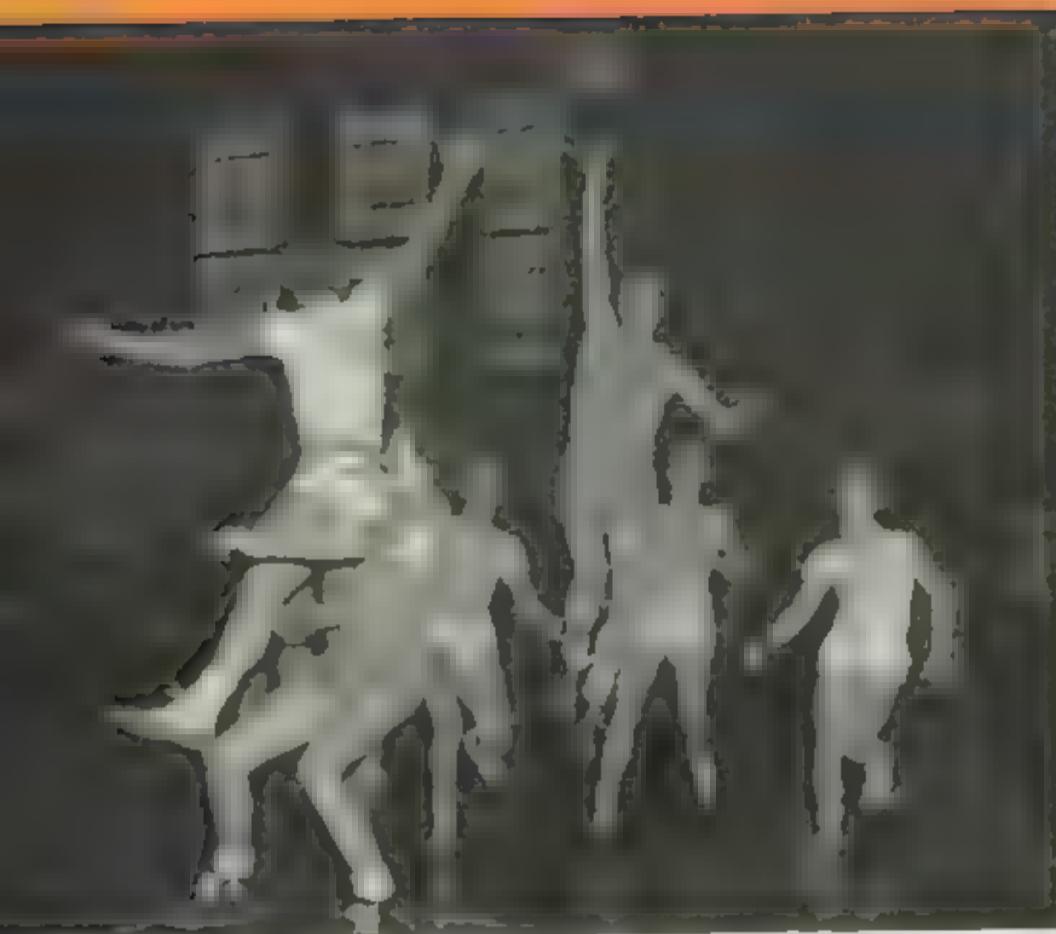

One of Purcell's classiest ball handlers was Captain D. White playing at a guard position. "Wild Bill" Donovan teamed up with "Doc" as guard forward. John Harmon and Mark Corcoran displayed a brilliant type of trickery in out-maneuvering the opponents. Of course no one will forget the versatile junior pivotman, "Tiny" Hoffman, 6'3 who also starred on the Cavalier football team. Al Weherer and Don Gruber netted the Cavaliers quite a number of points. Jim Mott and Don Brill scored off at forward positions. Two of the lankiest members on the squad are Frank Hall and Lou Seta both reaching 6'4".

Reserves

JRCELL'S Reserves had the more back on one of their most successful years after winning seventeen games and dropping seven.

Under the exacting guidance of Coach and former Cavalier Bob Wellman, the Cavalcaders developed their ball handling skill to such precision accuracy as to shut out many of the city's top basket artists.

From the beginning of the season the basketeers displayed their prowess. Covington Catholic and Western Hills were the first to receive the bitter sting of defeat, but Hamilton Catholic halted another Crimsonmen victory in a 32 to 30 decision. The jolt of Purcell's dormant power, however, was revived against Taylor and Central.

The Reserves met their masters in Walnut Hills and Roger Bacon, but soon they rose from their knees and forced the surrender of the Ohio Military Institute. Elder, Withrow, the L.B. Indians and DePorres all Xavier, however, rededed the Crimsonmen to scarlet with a 40 to 30 score. Four more victories raised the juniors' total to fifteen but Roger Bacon's second victory soon darkened their path. At the season's twilight the quintet was forced to swallow a triple dose of defeat from the scions of Elder, Xavier and Dayton.

Freshmen

EMERGING from its thirty-four game schedule with the nifty pack of twenty-nine positive contests tucked securely away, the freshman basketball squad, Bro. Gilbert Gensler's bonanza brood, set records at Purcell.

After upsetting St. Mary's 40 to 10 the Crimson Cagers were clipped in the bud by De Sales Corner accepting a defeat at 20 to 31. The boys climbed onto the gravy train for the next four games by dropping the Vikings, Purcell's own Reserve Subs, and Amelia twice. Roger Bacon broke the ice, however, by conquering the Cavaliers 20 to 18. Once more the Freshmen shook off defeat and proceeded to win twenty-two consecutive tilts only to be stopped by the Holy Cross quintet 36 to 21.

Pacing the squad in high scoring were John Westerkamp, Jack Muldoon, Bill Hall, Jim Anaruma, and James Bolger. John Westerkamp holds the title of the highest scorer of points per game with 22 in the clash with Assumption.

Baracudas Sink To Third

URCELLS busterng Baracudas of 946-47 padded their way to another painful season in which they finished third to Elder and St. Xavier in the Greater Cincinnati High School League.

The seventeen man team although it had no elected captain was presided over by J. McDevitt the Mermen, one and only Senior and Juniors B. I. Nightengale and Carl Deuer.

Under Father Norman Knoenig, coach, the water wing boys held their own against the senior class represented by the inter-class champion in both the GCHL and the PHL wings.

Leading out the squad were : Leaders P. W. & G. Brest, H. Berens, R. F. R. Kruef, D. Weller, Negro R. Murray, D. D. Dunningham, W. S. Shreve, R. L. Greer, F. Guterman and C. Fenix.

As in the past two years B. Nightengale again lifted himself to the ranks of heroes by capturing the high school crown individually, he was also under the guidance of Fred Nightengale and arbiter in exams for swimming the entire time to the meet.

Tankmen Build Power

PLASHING through the placid waters of the L.B., Purcell's paddling Reserves, although they received little, if any, notoriety, successfully completed a series of underwater engagements with remarkable thoroughness and agility. Propelling the Dolphins through the routine of instructions, Father Herman Kenning proceeded to adapt the former in the rigid standards of competitive swimming.

Already some of the aspiring freshmen have shown their abilities in mastering the backstroke and others have displayed their aptness in adopting the breast-stroke. Of the various methods of "submersive automotion" the hundred yard free style has been recognized as the most popular.

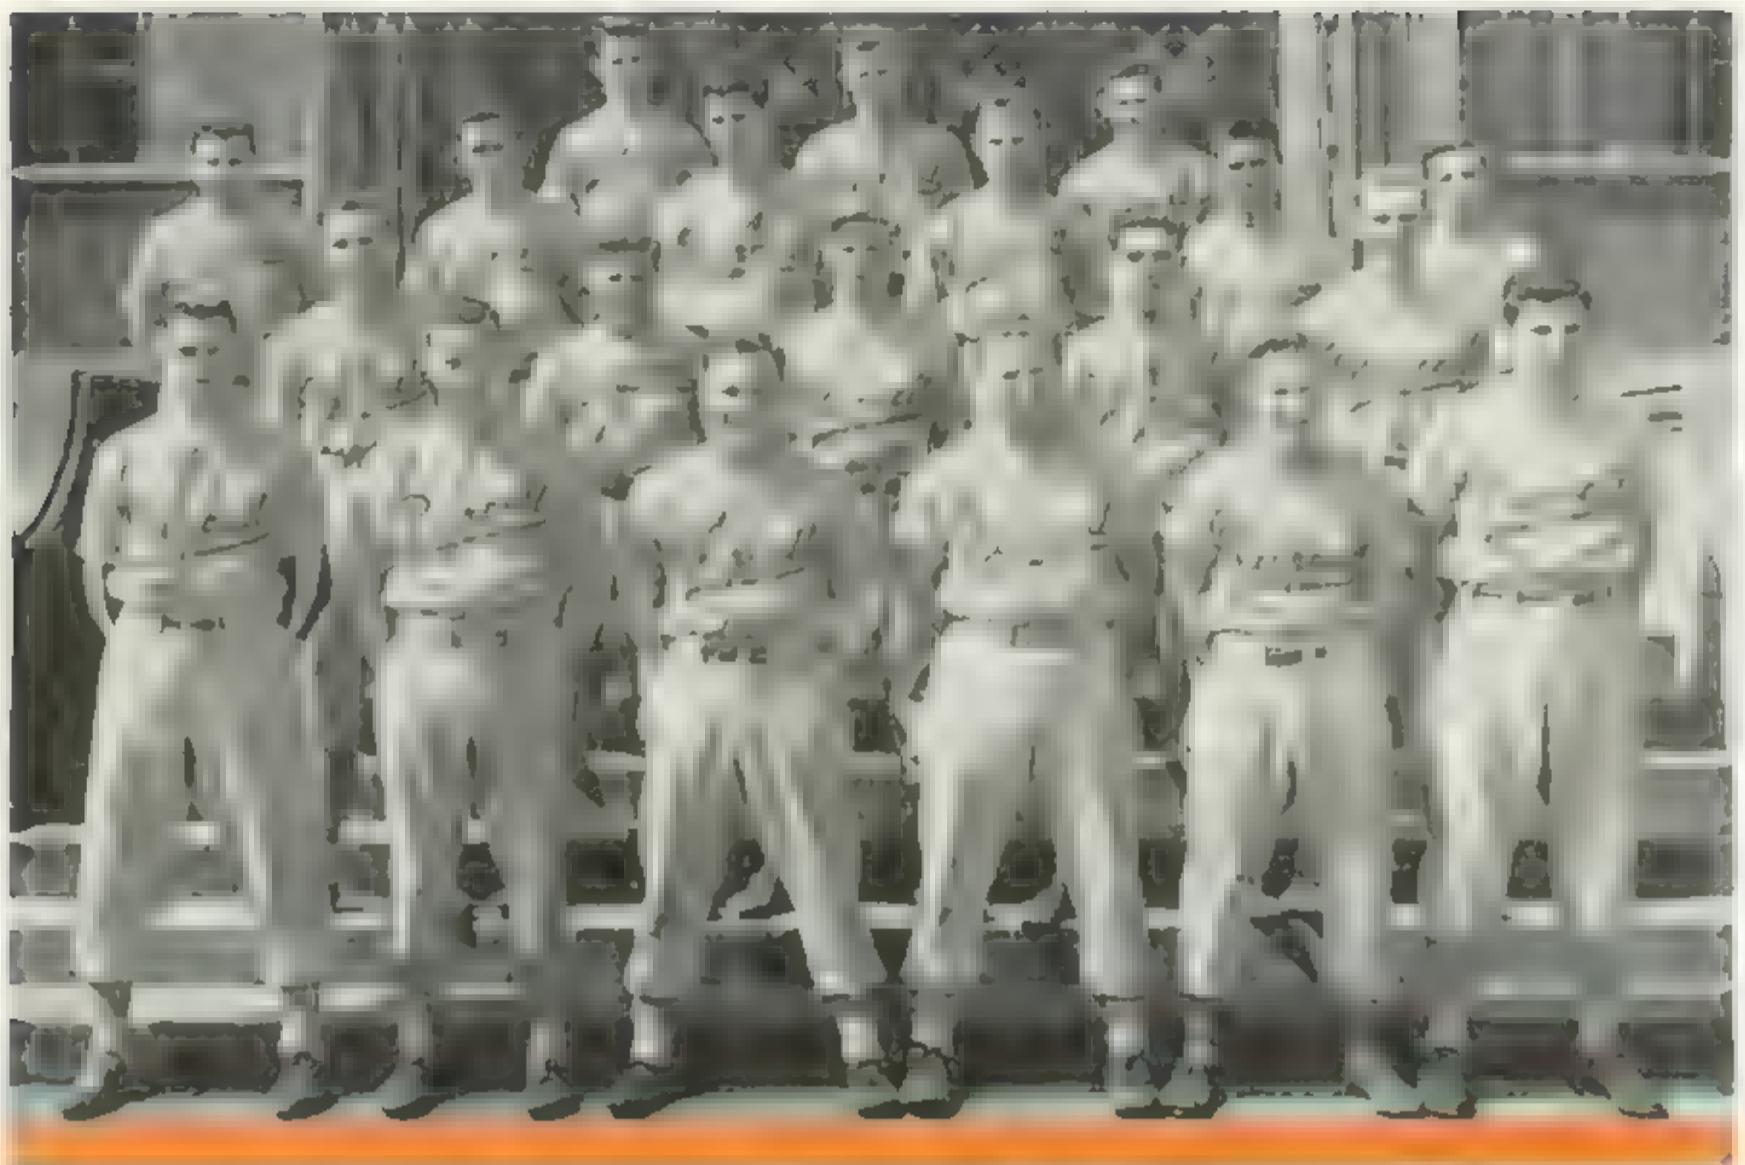

Cross-Country Track

FOUNDING the plates over hill and dale, Purcell's nascent cross-country team took to the field. Eight candidates reported for practice in July, practicing three times a week, in preparation for the regular season. In the dual meets Purcell failed to come off victors. Walnut hills squeezed out a 27-28 tally. Hughes bounced the Crimson and Gold boys 20-35. Setback by Norwood, the Hackberries failed again in a 22-33 contest.

Sixth place was the best Purcell could do in the District Meet held at Avon field golf course; however, two Cavalier fleet-footers were awarded medals. Bob MacVeigh won a gold medal placing ninth, while "Red" Setter received a silver medal for sixteenth place.

URCELL'S diamond dusters returned to the "bat and ball" wars. Donning their spiked shoes and mitt, with that cry, "Play Ball!" they opened their '47 campaign in search of another victorious season.

Captain Don Brill, his fourth year in varsity baseball, will share catching duties with sophomore Joe DeGaro, while Purcell's hurling staff consisting of Bill Adkins, Tom White, Don Gruber, and Jack Ruf dish them up.

"Tiny" Hoffman will cover first base. Don Daly and Bob Riesenburg are working out at second, while C. Cronin and Bill Folzenlogen are for shortstop duties. On the hot corner Les McDermott and George Spillie alternate. Out in the green pastures, Jim Mott, Jim Bolger, C. Corcoran, R. Ross, and Elmer Morris shag fly balls. Coach McAndrews' boys are strivin j for another championship season so that Purcell might retain the All-Sports trophy.

FROM the green-turfed, rolling fairways of Avon Fields, Purcell's iron-wielding Byron Nelsons headed for another par-breaking season. Although the Crimson and Gold golf team was practically void of all seniors except one, Bob Wilmers, they have, nevertheless, envisioned the league championship trophy.

Sharing the card with Bob are juniors: Bob Foppe, Don Rudolph, and Dick Lamping, who will probably form the first quartet. The foundation of the second team will consist of Jim Grady, Harold Gajus, Louis Bomkamp, John Richter, and Larry Kunkemoeller.

Of the many turf grinders in its schedule, the Withrow Tigers and the Norwood Indians linksmen are looked upon to be the Cavaliers' strictest competition. In their first two engagements the Scarletmen trounced Roger Bacon and St. Xavier in matches which predicted a bountiful season.

Directed under the militaristic guidance and perfections of Father Boyle, the Hackberry drivers possessed the constant hope and needed strength for many positive victories in future link contests.

OPENING the season on April 1 with Plainville, the Cavalier 1947 racquetteers prepared themselves for another year of fruitful victory.

Among the main threats provided by Purcell's court-set this year are the lone senior, Ray Kroger; the three "spider" boys—Jerry, Leo, and John Weber; Bob Beel, Larry Koenig and George Agricola.

Added to a portion of honest practice, the ability of Brother Gilbert Gensler's racquet boys will strive to provide Purcell's sports department with the essentials of a winning tennis team.

In second place with twin records were the White and Gold fives, both of whom reaped fourteen markers out of eighteen starts.

Gerry Kramer, Ronald Shawhan, and Vert Fluor held the highest individual scorers' titles with 216, 206 and 202 respectively.

Determined to make all of their activities most profitable in the school, the Cavaliers have succeeded in every phase of scholastic, social, and athletic undertaking. Actively engaged, Purcell students concentrated on the joy of living NOW.

The 47 band concert was another first for Purcell. The whole idea of the concert was complete originality. The music was semi-classical in tone and the selections were known to everyone. Guests were seated at tables and refreshments were served on the tables. Two vocalists were featured on the platform together with instruments such as piano, trumpet, violin and the flute.

The year was scheduled to run a minimum of five nights with a maximum of 400 students per night. Student night offered three different family nights brought many, Cinnabon lovers; and alumni night provided a night of fun with music as they sang old songs yet for auld lang

Religious Activities Inspire

DURING the present school year at Purcell High School, one of the most active large groups of students was the Purcell unit of the CSMC. The group began its activities in September of the current school year and unselfishly participated in all of the major events that required its assistance. Purcell's enrollees this year number over seven hundred, a total which is considered one of the largest in the city.

In the Purcell unit each religion class has its own representative who distributes the Shield and organizes various other class activities.

"Prayer, Study, and Sacrifice," the motto of the CSMC is made real in the school.

Prayer, the bulwark of the school, is said before each class, is the main activity during the annual retreat, and is climaxed by various Masses during the year.

Study is observed by diligently reading and reviewing the Shield and by entering the oratorical contests.

Sacrifice is made by the students during the annual Lenten Self Denial Fund, which meets with huge success every year. Instead of the usual Mission Fund, the receipts of the Self-Denial Fund were contributed this year to the Bishops' War Relief Fund for the Starving People of Europe.

Purcell was host to units from every school in this area recently when a convention was held at the school. This convention was attended by approximately five hundred students from every part of the city.

PURCELL'S Cavalieri Chapter of the National Mathematics Honor Society of Secondary Schools has brought another year of glory and honor to Purcell. Under the direction of Father Antony these scholars have continued to foster interest in mathematics, which in our scientific world of today is essential.

The individual members have written these on various spheres of mathematical work, some of which were read at the Third Annual Colloquium held at Our Lady of Angels High School.

True to their motto, "Full of Promise for the Advancement of Mankind," the Chapter donated several books to Purcell's library.

Thirty pledges, the future glory of the Chapter, were received in March.

Their active year ended with a picnic at the John Bryan State Park.

During the first semester, the Cavaliers have had for their subject, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should provide a system of complete medical care available to all citizens at public expense."

After competition for the semester, the Cavaliers moved to Mother of Mercy High School in a championship debate.

On the last red-winter day of school, with Newport High the latest beginning, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should revise its labor laws in order to control strikes." At the end of this second semester, the best team in the league will receive the League Award.

Junior Debaters Warm Up

WHEN a pupil enters Purcell he must, many times, wait until he is a Junior or Senior before he can be admitted into any club in the school. This, however, is not true for the debating club; a pupil may enter this organization anytime during his four high school years.

The qualifications are two-fold: first, to show interest in the club; and secondly, to have the necessary ability.

This club was founded to prepare the Frosh and Sophs only, for work as future debaters. Under the leadership of Brother Rossman, S.M., this club has worked constantly among themselves. In their future years as Purcell men, these young battlers will prove that they have gained much practical experience while junior debators.

WITH the advent of the 1946 school season, the Radio Club, with Brother Bernard Jansen the faculty mentor, turned a determined head towards their goal, an amateur transmitter for use in the school. Building has started on this unit and their hope is to complete it in the near future.

The organization began this year by electing Pat Close, president, and Tom Taley, vice-president.

During its first two years at Purcell the club was hampered by lack of equipment; but with the flood of surplus army materials, Bro. Jansen and the boys have completed an amazing amount of work. Included in their achievements are a ten meter converter, a Cathode ray oscilloscope, and a record player for use in the school.

Government Enters School Life

AFTER an absence of four years, the student council was reconstituted by the senior class of 47. Being composed of one elected representative from each house, from each elected member having a vote, the voice of the student body. Its aim is to maintain relations between the students and the faculty on matters regarding school and the associated social life of the students.

Headed by the senior class officers William Curran, president; James McCarthy, vice-president; William Fenton, secretary, and Donald Brill, treasurer, it is moderated by Father Joseph Lekan, O.S.C., who convenes every two weeks to discuss the situations facing the student at the present time. At work is a committee to when to have the first election.

The organization, which in 1943, had 11 members, is the result of a merger in 1942. It was revamped by a committee composed of Ronald Williams, chairman Thomas McCarthy, Anthony D'Angelo and John Schueler. The new organization, with 11 members, John McCarthy president of the Freshmen, Anthony Azzato, etc.

The student body works through the student council for the bettering of their welfare, harmony between the faculty, and improving their present situation.

Hellenists Reborn

HIS last school year marked the arrival of a new activity at Purcell Advocati Latini. Under the direction of Fr. James McKay, S.M., the club consisting of fifteen juniors, sat away from the conventional, dry translation and delved into the latent, interesting facets of the famous persons and events in Roman history. In accordance with each a plan, reports were given on certain subjects like the Coliseum in Rome, which was supplemented with various pictures to more easily explain the material. The Handwriting on the Wall, a factual account of the writings found on the walls of the buildings in the excavated town of Pompeii, served as a key to the discovery of the way of life in those days. Another report concerned itself with the Circus Maximus, the scene of the Roman chariot races and the gladiatorial fights. A short play was given entitled Exitium Caesaris about the death of Caesar.

Staff Feeds Bookworms

HIS last year saw the library staff of Purcell busy as usual with maintaining the library services: checking books in and keeping them in order, and supplying the other needs of a library that demanded many an hour's work in the valuable fellows' leisure time.

They're intensely absorbed in their Latin material outside of class.

The officers elected this year were Donald Meyers, President; Harold Hare, Vice President; and Paul Hahn, Secretary. The motto chosen was Facta non verba, which corresponds with the work they did. Next year the club will consist of both junior and seniors.

Yearbook Men Record Achievements

SINCE over two hundred seniors are bidding adieu to Purcell, the Staff of the 1947 Cavalier ventures to help relive those unforgettable carefree days spent so well at the Alma Mater.

Directing this hard working group of annua writers who spent hours compiling yearbook with its appealing and interesting style, Mark Stewart, editor-in-chief. Displaying artistic quality to our "Cavalier" is Douglas Brockman, art editor, who is a worthwhile prospect in this vast field.

Editing our very versatile and successful field of athletics in pep-packed style, is Henry Setter, sports editor.

Managing the important financial duties and details that go hand in hand with an annua is Edward Beverage, a capable and enthusiastic salesman.

The task of composing all articles (with the exception of the sports coverage) and creating the titles for the hundred of pictures, fell to the ten staff writers: James Cannon, Thomas Cannon, Kenneth Hahn, Thomas Hustmyer, Albert Ritter, Paul Schacherer, Donald Schmidt, Richard Schmitt, William Stuebbe, and Don Heikkamp.

Final proofing and typing of articles was handled by John Frey, William Pewther, Norbert Stallo, and Thomas White.

If the annual staff succeeds to portray in a small way, a Cavalier's life,—those dances, those assemblies, those proms, those football games, those classrooms,—the nucleus of our Purcell spirit which it is impossible to express in words, it will consider its main objective to have been reached.

Thus, the 1947 Cavalier is presented. Cavalier attainments, scholastically, athletically, and graphically laid before you.

Parents Eager To Cooperate

THE outstanding parents' association in the city is the Welfare. With its membership of over one thousand members, the Welfare conducts two big financial events annually,—the Turkey Bazaar and the Spring Festival,—and the finances are used for equipping the band, finishing the gym, blacktopping and enlarging the yard.

The monthly meeting every third Thursday is indeed inspiring and is the reason why

Purcell is rated one of the best high schools in the city. After a business meeting in the auditorium, the parents are invited to the cafeteria to have a well-liked, sociable evening with refreshments and entertainment for all. The officers this year are: Mr. Wm. Cosgrove, president; Mr. Earl Nieland, vice-president; Mr. Henry P. J. Wurtzler, membership chairman; Mrs. Raymond Kroger, recording secretary; Mr. John Ruf, entertainment chairman; Mr. A. W. Nightingale, publicity chairman.

At the St. Patrick's Party for the Welfare Association, they decided to find out which lady in attendance had the brightest green dress and here is the line-up of mothers who have worn a green dress. All Irish

The young woman is none other than Mrs. Dotte Mercurio, the woman with the greenest dress at the St. Patrick's Party. Another green award was given to Mr. Bill Schwemberger for the greenest tie. (+ had a ght on it)

The evening would not be complete without a little music to soothe nerves, and to add to the soothing, would be a good singer, which the Welfare had in Mr. Art Schoenberger who did credit to the Irish Melodies.

While Mr. William Fischer fiddles away, Fr. James Byrnes and Mr. John Sheehan blend their voices to the tone of "McNamara's Band." As we all know Fr. Byrne is a true Irishman and always enjoys an Irish tune.

There is one thing which marks every Cavalier — youth. It is this quality which opens the door to all the good times of his school career. Youth alone can derive the full benefits from these years. Thus, Cavaliers are challenged to make the most of their school life.

Frosh Muralists Deck The Walls

The first mural was painted by the members of the Frosh class. It depicts the school's crest and its motto, "Truth, Justice, and the American Way." The admiration of the students proved that the work was well done.

In addition to each mural, each student decided on the next which he wished to do. In this manner, the two groups thus formed, went to work to study the various ideas that would most develop the individual's mind. When the individual settings were made, men decided upon each member of the group drew up a work of drawing at the entire mural. In a few days, when these drawings had been analyzed and critized by the group, six from them the various subjects of the murals were selected.

A group of students was assigned to each room and they had as an objective to make a original interpretation of the scene. The students were obliged to work together and to solve their own problems within their group and the individual groups had to maintain a spirit of cooperation in order to develop the mural as a unit. From start to finish both board drawings provided a situation for the students to battle problems of solving.
